IAS/IFRS Impact: First Time Adoption

IAS/IFRS principles

BNL fully adopts IAS/IFRS principles at 1/01/2005

Type of impacts

The adoption of the new accounting principles implies modifications in:

- accounting methods of several Balance Sheet and P&L items
- Group consolidation perimeter
- reclassification criteria of Balance Sheet and P&L results

First Time Adoption

First Time Adoption generates an initial impact on Net Equity at 31/12/2004

1Q05 results & 2004 comparable data BNL has opted to exclude from the comparison between 2005 and 2004 results the application to the latter of IAS 32 ('Disclosure and Presentation') and 39 ('Recognition and Measurement')

IAS/IFRS Introductory Guidelines

Argentina

In compliance with IAS 27, at 1st January 2005 the Argentinean subsidiaries have been included in the consolidation area.

In accordance with IFRS 5 principle, which regulates Activities Held for Sale, they have been accounted for at the lowest between the balance sheet value and the fair value net of sale expenses (effectively valuing the Argentinean group at €1); the relative balance-sheet and P&L items have been separately presented in the consolidated accounts. BNL Inversiones Argentinas S.A. impacts the balance sheet and P&L acount through the following entries:

Assets: "Non-current assets held for sale and discontinued operations" €1,141mln

Liabilities: "Liabilities related to discontinued operations" €1,018mln

(The difference of €123mln between the two items above representing intra-group lines)

P&L account: No impact

IAS/IFRS First Time Adoption: Net Equity

First Time Adoption generates a total of €884mIn on Net Equity at 31/12/2004

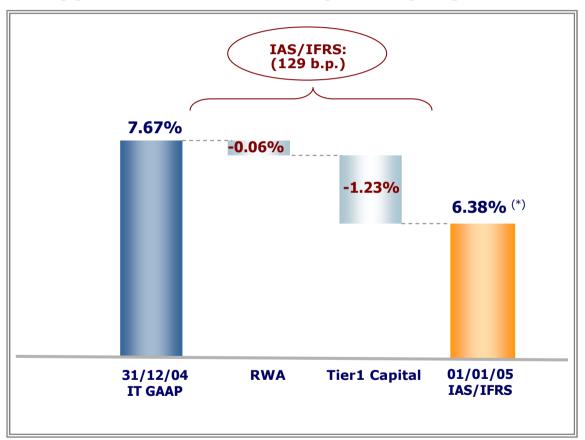

Amounts in Emln
